

expansion planned. For more information, visit Sugarskullrum.com or email smoke@taliera.com.

Kim Crawford Fizz

Constellation Brands launched a new méthode traditionnelle sparkling wine in its Kim Crawford Small Parcels line this month. Using hand-harvested grapes from three vineyards in New Zealand's Marlborough region, the 2009 Kim Crawford Fizz comprises 40-percent Chardonnay and 60-percent Pinot Noir and was aged in bottle for three years. Available nationwide, the wine has crisp fruit flavors, mineral notes and a silky texture. For more information, visit Kimcrawfordwines.com or call Constellation at 585-678-7100.

Juxtapoz

Delicato Family Vineyards introduced a luxury red blend sourced from California's North Coast region in September. Designed to showcase contrasting grape varieties, the 2012 Juxtapoz ($24.99 a 750-ml. bottle) is a blend of Syrah, Zinfandel, Petite Sirah, Malbec and Cabernet Sauvignon. The wine is available nationwide. For more information, visit Dfvwines.com or call the company at 707-265-1700.

Delish Sauvignon Blanc

Don Sebastiani & Sons launched a new Sauvignon Blanc from California in September. Made with fruit from Sonoma, Paso Robles, San Joaquin and Clarksburg, the 2013 Delish ($14.99 to $17.99 a 750-ml. bottle) has notes of tropical fruit, grass, garden herbs and pear and is available nationwide. Visit Donsebastianiandsons.com or call the company at 707-933-1704 for more information.

Tenshen

TGIC Global Fine Wine Co. unveiled a new Rhône-style varietal blend from California's Santa Barbara County AVA this fall. Named for the natural tension of the grape harvest, Tenshen ($25 a 750-ml. bottle) has dark fruit flavors with spice accents. The wine is a blend of Syrah, Grenache, Petite Sirah and Merlot and is available nationwide. For more information, visit Tgicwine.com or call the company at 818-225-5100.

Canvasback Cabernet Sauvignon

Napa Valley's Duckhorn Wine Co. introduced a new wine in September. The 2012 Canvasback Washington State Red Mountain Cabernet Sauvignon ($40 a 750-ml. bottle) is a blend of 85-percent Cabernet and 15-percent Merlot that's been aged for 16 months in French oak. Now available in 25 states, the structured wine has earthy minerality on the palate, with notes of blueberry and dry desert sage. Visit Canvasbackwine.com or call Duckhorn at 866-367-9945 for more information.

Rolland Galarreta

Virginia-based Kysela Père et Fils Ltd. released a Spanish wine backed by oenologist Michel Rolland this month. The Rolland Galarreta portfolio includes three wines: a 2012 Rueda ($22 a 750-ml. bottle) made from the Verdejo grape, a 2010 Rioja ($24) made from 100-percent Tempranillo and a 2010 Ribera del Duero ($26) that's 85-percent Tempranillo and 15-percent Merlot. The wines are available nationwide. For more information, visit Kysela.com or call the company at 540-722-9228.

Argento Reserva Chardonnay

Blends Inc. introduced a new wine from Argentina's Mendoza Valley this fall. The 2013 Argento Reserva Chardonnay ($12.99 a 750-ml. bottle) has fresh peach and apricot on the nose, white stone fruit, fig and honey on the palate, with a crisp finish. The wine is available nationwide. For more information, visit Argentowine.com or call Blends at 707-266-1857.

Canti Prosecco DOC
Millesimato

Princeton, Minnesota-based Prestige Wine Group began importing a new Prosecco in September. Made from 100-percent Glera grapes, the 2012 Canti Prosecco DOC Millesimato ($13.99 a 750-ml. bottle) is medium-dry and crisp, with peach and pear flavors.

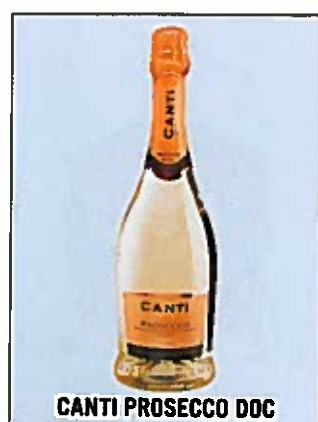

KIM CRAWFORD FIZZ

JUXTAPOZ

TENSHEN

CANTI PROSECCO DOC